

Privacy and Cookie policy

How the CX Company handles your data.

Definitions

In the text mentioned below, "the site" is spoken of. This refers to the address of <http://www.cxcompany.com> and all underlying pages. This site is owned by The CX Company. In the text below, this company will be referred to as Owner.

Changes

The information on the site of Owner is regularly updated, and alterations, where necessary, can be made at all times, starting immediately and without giving any prior notice.

Personal data and privacy

If you order products or information through our website, Owner will need some personal data (such as email address, postal address and telephone number). Customer files will not be sold to third parties. In case you want to be removed from our customer files, and you are in fact not a customer in any way anymore, you can send a letter to our head office with the subject "remove from customer files". We will evaluate the status of your relation with us and, in case the status is inactive, will subsequently remove you from our files as soon as possible.

Cookies

In order to facilitate a fast adjustment and / or accessibility of our site, it is important that we place one or more cookies onto your system. The Dialogue Manager is designed on this principle and will not be able to function if you do not accept cookies. The method chosen (i.e. with the use of cookies) enables you and many other visitors to be helped quickly and without large investments.

Dutch Law

Owner manages this website in the Netherlands. Any form of judicial discord is subject to Dutch law and will be submitted to the district court in Maastricht.